

An abstract geometric composition featuring a series of layered, triangular and polygonal shapes that create a sense of depth and volume, resembling a mountain range or a series of stacked planes. The colors are vibrant and varied, including shades of yellow, orange, red, blue, green, and purple. A prominent vertical blue line runs through the center of the composition, acting as a focal point and dividing the space. The background is a solid, light gray, which provides a neutral backdrop for the colorful elements. The overall style is minimalist and modern, emphasizing geometric forms and color contrast.
